

THE ARIZONA SILVER BELT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILA COUNTY.

Saturday, March 4, 1893.

POLITICAL DISAGREEMENT.

The word caucus is purely a North Americanism, and fruitless where public offices are too few to supply the demand of gentlemen of leisure who live by their wits, in humbugging the dear people that they, above all others, are endowed with statecraft. The word "caucus" gives rise to the recollection of the expressed idea of a once presiding Deputy of the French Assembly, who told the astronomer, Laplace, that the discovery of a new planet was of far less importance than that of a new pudding, since we had already more planets than we knew what to do with, while we never could have puddings enough.

The scarcity of offices and the reason that Arizona has more applicants for office than she knows what to do with, gave rise to the late meeting of Democratic legislators, in caucus. The object of the convocation, as proposed, when called to order, was to send a delegation to Washington to urge upon the incoming administration the early appointment of a Governor in place of the present incumbent, N. O. Murphy. It is also alleged that ex-Governor Zuliuk's appointment would fill "the caucus bill of expectation"; but before the climax of his nomination was agreed to, Melan of Nogales, "interjected an injection which made the caucus squirm," so says the Tucson Citizen. "He agreed that Zuliuk should go to Washington, but he should go in the person of a helmsman to Marcus A. Smith—our Mark, who was the only pure and true representative that the Democracy of Arizona could, should, would or ought to have in Washington. Then the fur began to fly. Zuliuk's friends, who could see office in the future on the election of their chief, resented the imputation, when Bob Leatherwood tried to commit the caucus in behalf of L. C. Hughes for Governor." Leatherwood's suggestion caused an adjournment for twenty-four hours for special prayer, meditation and intercession. The re-assembling of the caucus notably revealed the absence of Leatherwood, (commonly referred to as "the little political giant," J. J. Hawkins and others.

In what this feud will benefit the party remains to be seen, and perhaps, the Democracy may yet take compass of little birds, which, in their nests agree, and not persist in the avowal that in becoming partners in this political disorder they are unveiling candidates in order that the appointing power may properly judge applicants for office. That, perhaps, might be well if their disinterested (?) motives were also revealed by turning their calcium light on the ones they wish to down, while those they favor have the charity of their silence in regard to their schemings.

The second deal was more favorable to Zuliuk, dyed-in-the-wool politician. He is the elect of the split caucus to go to Washington and tickle the ear of the President.

The experience of 1884 should teach these favoring home rule a lesson. It is a well remembered fact that Mr. Cleveland was not deceived by conflicting petitions commending and black-balling candidates for Federal positions, which so engendered his disgust that he resolved to make appointments for the Territory outside of Arizona, notwithstanding the declaration in the platform upon which he was elected that, "The selection of Federal officers for the Territories should be restricted to citizens previously residents therein."

The Prescott Courier thus portrays the felicity in store for women by the enactment of the law now under consideration by the 17th general assembly: "If women are put on the same plane as men by being given the ballot, they should also have to bear all other burdens and should enjoy all the freedom of other citizens—such as serving on juries, enlistment in the army as soldiers, being sworn in as deputy sheriffs to put down mobs, serving in the ranks in time of war; should be allowed the freedom of saloons and other places the same as men; should be allowed to sing anywhere on the face of God's green earth or off of it where the spirit moves them to. Our governor's message, recommending female suffrage in one paragraph and prohibiting women earning livelihood by singing in saloons in another sounds a little inconsistent, to say the least. If woman is to be a citizen, she certainly must have the same freedom and burdens of other citizens. There can be no special legislation for any one class of citizens in this country."

Should the suggestions of the Courier be entertained it is suggested, by implication that the use of side saddles would be an infringement of the law unless otherwise specially provided.

Inasmuch as one good turn deserves another, newspapers should make frequent mention of Lovell's candidacy for Chief Justice of Arizona. He is deserving of editorial consideration, representing him as the occupant of a diving bell, in nethermost depths, in search of McNulty.

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

In the Council, Feb. 28th, a bill by Edwards was introduced requiring district and supreme court judges to make affidavits that all cases have been disposed of before drawing their pay, read first time and 100 copies ordered printed.

The President appointed Mr. Edwards and Mr. Nellis the committee under Joint Resolution No. 2, to investigate the Funding Commission.

There was a disposition in the Council to rush through the Female Suffrage bill to a final vote on its passage, but this was objected to strongly by Mr. Edwards and Mr. Doran and it was finally allowed to take the regular course and go to a committee. Mr. Hawkins was granted a leave of absence for five days and the consideration of the Female Suffrage bill is to be postponed till he returns.

In the House, H. B. No. 43, Hunt, an act to amend an act regulating railway fares in the Territory of Arizona, read first time and referred to committee on Corporations.

H. B. 44 Southwick, to exempt reduction works and reeling works from taxation for five years. Read first time, second time by title and 100 copies ordered printed.

H. B. 45, Hunt, to constitute Treasurers, ex-officio tax collectors in second and third-class counties. Passed to second reading.

The Tombstone Prospector gives currency to the report "that the grand jury at Florence last month found a true bill against the Kid for violation of the Edmunds act. One Apache squaw, who was equally guilty with the Kid, was also indicted," and is as dumb as an oyster in reference to the equally creditable report that the devil is dead. But Dunlap a member of the U. S. Grand Jury in a jocular mood suggested to Fred Westmeyer, foreman of the jury, that the Kid and his squaw were guilty of a violation of the Edmunds law, but not in presence of the grand inquest which suggested that polygamy was prevalent with nomadic tribes and that to engage in the correction of the morals of Indians, the members of the jury would die of old age.

The Florence Tribune of February 25th, complains, that the board of Supervisors of Pinal, at its latest session violated a law relating to public printing. The Tribune is referred to Chapter Two, Section 453, Page 157, of the Revised Statutes, 1887, relating to county government, which provides as a penalty for any unauthorized act of Supervisors (in addition to the penalty provided for in the Penal Code) that they forfeit to the county five hundred dollars for every such act, to be recovered on their official bond, and are further liable on their bond to any person injured thereby for all damages sustained.

In 1892 there were 6,792 murders in the United States, and only 107 legal indictments of the death penalty. According to this showing one person in every 10,000 was murdered, while only one murderer in every sixty-three and one-half met the just punishment of his crime. Students of social problems have also to admit that "reliable statistics and testimony prove that, among all nations of the Christian world, in the United States the highest crimes are most frequently committed and least punished."

Judge Lovell who schooled a limited number of masked supervisors introduced a bill in the present legislative assembly having for its object the winging of Territorial newspapers, and to his and their sorrow darkness encompasses the tomb of their bill. It was laid to rest in the council, upon a motion to indefinitely postpone, which conveyed it to the waste basket, the receptacle for legislative rubbish. Mr. Lovell was the only member who voted against indefinitely postponing the bill.

The action of Secretary Foster in making a contract with a New York banking firm for the sale of $25,000,000 gold bonds to be taken the moment the Government's gold reserve falls below the $100,000,000 limit, is an ill-considered measure inviting speculation, and already it is rumored a conspiracy has been formed among Wall street speculators to effect the necessary reduction, $3,000,000 to $4,000,000, in the Treasury surplus and thus force the issue of bonds.

The heirs of Miguel Peralta, claimants of the alleged Peralta land grant, filed their claim with the clerk of the land court, at Tucson, Feb. 27th. The grant is declared to cover 300,000 square leagues of land, or 19,200,000,000 square varas. A counter claim to this grant has been filed in Santa Fe, by another set of claimants, through the heirs of Dr. Willing.

The Phoenix Herald, of March 1st, gives currency to the report that the delegation headed by ex-Governor Zuliuk, will leave for Washington immediately, and will push the candidacy of Foster S. Dennis, of Mohave county, for Governor. To what extent does "the delegation" represent the Democracy of Arizona is the question?
